COLONEL FRANKLIN BARTLETT'S COM-MAND RELIEVES THE 71ST AT PEEKSKILL.

The 22d Regiment went to the State Camp, near Peekskill, yesterday, expecting to relieve the Tist Regiment at 3 p. m. When the roll was called at the armory, Sixty-eighth-st, and the Boulevard, at 11 a. m., 650 men responded. The men were in full marching order, wearing the regulation fatigue uniform, with broad-brimmed slouch hats, and carrying overcoats rolled on the tops of their knapsacks, Colonel Franklin Bartlett was in command of the regiment, and his staff included Lieutenant-Colonel King, Adjutant Hart and Majors Thurston and Demarest. Captain Boylan, Company K. was officer of the day, and Lieutenant Bell was officer of the guard. The regiment did not take along its own music, but will rely on the State Band.

The 22d Regiment men are the champion athletes of the National Guard, and while at camp they expect to surprise all comers by their feats of pect to surprise all comers by their feats of strength and endurance. Incidentally they also believe they are soldiers, and expect to take a high rank. During the first part of the week the regiment will be reinforced by men who were unable to leave the city yesterday.

The Tist Regiment, under command of Colonel Francis V. Greene, arrived in the city from the State Camp in the afternoon, and when the men left the cars in the Grand Central Station they were marched out to Fifth-ave, and formed in line. Then the regiment proceeded down the avenue to Thirty-fourth-st., where is turned over to the armory. As soon as they could get their arms in the racks the men went to their homes. The regiment had a hard week of it. Colonel Greene said that the men suffered greatly from the heat, yet no one had been prostrated, and not one duty was omitted during the whole time in camp. The men were brown as berries and showed that they had worked hard.

were brown as berries and showed that they had worked hard.

The 47th Regiment, Colonel John G. Eddy, is already making active preparations for its tour of camp duty, which will begin on July 17 and last until July 24. The regiment will take possession of the city of tents, near Peekskill, immediately after the evacuation by the 28d Regiment and the 2d Provisional Battalion now encamped there.

The 47th Regiment will have as camp comrades the 3d Provisional Battalion, consisting of the 21st Separate Company, Captain James H. Lloyd, from Troy; the 23d Separate Company, Captain James H. Lloyd, from Troy; the 23d Separate Company, Captain Frank L. Stevens, from Hoesick Falls. The provisional battalion will be commanded by Captain Lloyd.

In consequence of lack of funds, the camp season will be short this year, and will end with the tour of the 4th Regiment, Colonel George C. Fox, will leave its armory in Buffalo on the evening of July 2s, and will march to the campground from Roa Hook at about noon on the following day, and remain in camp until July 21. The artillery of the First Brigade will be encamped at the State reservation during its occupancy by the Buffalo troops, and the great rivalry between the 1st Battery, Captain Louis Wendel, and the 2d, Captain David Wilson, will probably result in masterly exhibitions in the drill of that arm of the service. It is expected that General Howard Carroll, Chief of Artillery, and Colonels William Carroll Sanger and Ashley W. Cole, assistants on his staff, will be in camp during the artillery tour.

The parade at the camp last evening was witnessed by many residents of the village. Six cases of heat prostration were reported and attended by the hospital corps last night.
